For more than 20 years, and with a nearly 100% success rate, Aimee has empowered women to pull on those "big-girl panties" and take control of their careers. As an executive career coach and professional growth expert, she has partnered with hundreds of organizations and individual clients for career management coaching, transition training, and leadership and professional development.

As a dynamic speaker, Aimee travels around the country delivering presentations to audiences of all sizes and specializes in keynote speeches and workshops designed specifically for women's groups, organizations and associations. She has led professional development training sessions and outplacement transition seminars for Fortune 500 companies and highly respected organizations such as AT&T, Charles Schwab, Newmont Mining, Northwestern Mutual, Traveler's Insurance, University of Denver, Xcel Energy, Women in Law Enforcement and more.

Woman UP!, Aimee's organization and now best-selling book ("Woman UP! Overcome the 7 Deadly Sins That Sabotage Your Success") is dedicated to empowering professionals to manage their careers "like a boss." In her work with Woman UP! and as co-founder of Women ON Point, Aimee has been described as a career dream-maker who takes typical on-the-job training and education to the next level, guiding business professionals in how to create lifelong, fulfilling and successful careers.

Aimee is often called on for her career development expertise and has contributed to or made guest appearances on Denver television news programs, Denver Business Journal, Denver Post, Fox News New York, HuffPost Live, Today.com, Chicago Tribune, Wall Street Journal, Fortune and Glamour. A dedicated mentor and philanthropist throughout her career, she has received numerous outstanding women in business award nominations and is deeply committed to developing the next generation of female leaders.

Aimee is the proud mom of a son who graduated from the United Military Academy at West Point and a daughter who attends the University of Boulder, Colorado. She and her husband Adam have resided in Denver for the past 26 years.
