For more than 20 years, and with a nearly 100% success rate, Aimee has empowered professionals, at every level and industry, to take control of their careers and be in the driver's seat of their own success. As an ICF certified executive coach and professional growth expert, she has partnered with hundreds of organizations and individual clients for career and performance management coaching, transition training, and leadership and professional development.

As a dynamic speaker, trainer, best-selling author, and career expert Aimee travels around the country delivering presentations to audiences of all sizes and specializes in tackling the most current and relevant topics and challenges that impact women in the workforce today. She has led professional development training sessions and outplacement transition programs for Fortune 500 companies and industry leaders including AT&T, Best Buy, Charles Schwab, Hyatt, Kaiser Permanente, National Association of Women in Construction, Newmont Mining, Northwestern Mutual, St. Paul Police, Traveler's Insurance, University of Denver, Xcel Energy, and more.

As President and Co-Founder of ON Point Next Level Leadership and CEO and Founder of Woman UP!, two global executive coaching and leadership consulting firms, Aimee has dedicated her entire career to empowering individuals, teams, and organizations with a unique strategic and strengths-based approach to help maximize peak performance and exceed goals. Aimee has been described as a "career dream-maker" who takes typical on-the-job training and education to the next level, guiding business professionals in how to create lifelong, fulfilling and successful careers with practical strategies that get results.

Aimee is often called on for her career advancement and professional development expertise and has contributed to or made guest appearances on numerous television news programs and in the Wall Street Journal, Chicago Tribune, Denver Business Journal, Denver Post, Fox News New York, HuffPost Live, Today.com, Fortune and Glamour magazines. A dedicated mentor and philanthropist throughout her career, she has received numerous outstanding women in business award nominations and is deeply committed to developing the next generation of female leaders.

Aimee is the proud mom of a son who graduated from the United States Military Academy at West Point and a daughter from the University of Colorado-Boulder. She considers her children her greatest accomplishment but not her "only" accomplishment – and knows first-hand how to be successful and make work-life balance a priority.
